

Worshipful Company of Tax Advisers

BUDGET BANQUET

THURSDAY 7th MARCH 2019

Our Budget Banquet is the Company's principal event of the year and will be held at the magnificent Clothworkers' Hall; from the style evoking the history of English classical architecture from Wren, to the present sumptuous interiors, this Hall will provide a spectacular backdrop to what is shaping up to be a rather fun dinner. On the basis that silence deems assent, Cedric the magnificent Golden Ram at the Hall, was in hearty agreement that we should feast on pedigree Berkshire pigs from my woods in Hampshire and rarely have I seen the wine merchant from the little village of Quercamps in Northern France look so excited, as when I presented him the shopping list for his wines for the banquet.

We have two rather special guests joining us; the first is our guest of honour Alderman Ian Luder CBE, the company's Lord Mayor who was intimately involved in the granting of our Royal Charter ten years ago and the second is "Troy" the owl who will be joining the receiving line.

This is an occasion where, as a company, we entertain a number of official guests with a special interest in finance or taxation as well as the Presidents of our professional bodies and Masters and Clerks of other Livery Companies that make up the Financial Services Group of City Livery Companies. I take this opportunity to remind all members of the company that this dinner is very much open to members' guests and they would be most welcome – even if taxation isn't their trump suit.

Marcus Fincham - Master
